Jesus and Empire: A Sermon Series on Colossians

We continue our four-week series on the book of Colossians. This letter was an explosive and subversive text that was written for Christians struggling to follow Jesus in a world of empire. Colossians is also packed with wisdom to help shape our imaginations and lives towards Jesus in this time.

FROM THE CHURCH COUNCIL: Stephanie Friesen

Earlier this week I attended an MCM meeting at AMC here in Altona. The opening devotional focused on Psalm 121:

"I lift up my eyes to the mountains. Where does my help come from? My help comes from the Lord, the maker of heaven and earth."

It was shared with us that there are many pastoral openings - lead, associate, and youth alike - and no pastors available to fill those spots. Obviously, this is something that concerns us since we are losing our youth pastor and, as church council, we have been figuring out how to move forward. Conversations with our congregation and specifically with the parents of our youth tell us that continuing to have our own youth program at ABC is essential and important. So, what do we do then if there are no pastors looking for jobs? In the past we would have formed a search committee to discuss, discern and reach out to MCM for a list of people looking for jobs. At this time, we feel like these steps have already been taken by different members of Church Council and that forming a search committee would be "meeting just to meet". Now, while this doesn't sound encouraging, be assured that we, Church Council, are not sitting back and doing nothing. We are thinking outside the box, we have talked about a few shoulders to tap on, and we are discussing options for the fall in the case that we don't have anyone in place for the youth. We will form a working group as the need arises.

So, where does Psalm 121 fit into all of this? We focus on the issue at hand (the mountains) but ultimately our help comes from the Lord, the one who created the heavens and the earth. Surely, He has the power to provide all that we need. As we continue to discern, search, tap on shoulders and get creative, we invite and encourage you to pray for us along the way.

June 26, 7 pm – tonight- We will have a service of lament for anyone who wishes to bring their grief into the presence of God. This includes the various losses we have experienced during the last couple years, particularly the pain and sadness of people leaving our church community. This will also be a time of fostering hope for our future as we move forward in welcoming and loving ways.

ABC goes to camp! We are required to communicate numbers of people and arrangements to the camp in preparation for our weekend at Camp Assiniboia September 9-11.

The cost for overnight stay is $42 per adult per night and $25 per child per night with additional costs for meals (if cost is a barrier, arrangements will be made so that you can participate). This includes most of the camp activities and facilities. People can stay from Friday to Sunday or from Saturday to Sunday, or come out for the day on Sunday. We are asking people to let the church office know your plans before the end of June so that accommodations can be arranged for. The entire camp is currently being reserved for us, but if we will not use all the available space the camp can have other groups use the space. For camp retreat details please contact Mark.
