Mennonite Church Canada has just under a dozen congregations across Canada with roots in Ethiopia and Eritrea. Meserete Kristos Church in Ethiopia is the largest Anabaptist community worldwide with whom we have an intentional, sister-church relationship. Ethiopia is experiencing a threefold threat of pandemic, famine and war. Crops are devastated due to a locust infestation and Ethiopia is now in the midst of intense conflict, while in the grip of a global pandemic. Pray for peace and healing in Ethiopia. Pray especially for the children; 42% of the population is below the age of 15. Pray also for the congregations here in Canada in our nationwide community of faith who carry deep concern for Ethiopia and Eritrea and for loved ones.

FROM the PASTOR: Virginia Gerbrandt Richert

In the past several weeks and months I have heard a lot about self-care. I have seen many articles and posters calling people to care for themselves. While on the one hand this makes a lot of sense given that these are trying and stressful times that we are in, on the other hand it can look a bit selfish or self-absorbent. I want to place these actions in relation to our faith and calling as followers of Christ.

In Jesus' ministry whenever he encountered an individual that was in pain or hurting, he reached out to them, he often touched them, and he paid attention to all of the struggles they were dealing with. Lepers had a skin disease but they were also excluded from normal society. The blind could not see, nor could they earn their own living. And the bleeding woman was likely suffering from anemia as well as the stigma of continually being unclean. And when Jesus healed them, he restored the whole person, physically as well as socially and spiritually.

These days when we talk about self-care, we are not simply talking about a bubble bath or a day at the spa. We are talking about ways to restore our spirits, things that we need individually to stay healthy and connected. We are talking about deep connections with friends and loved ones, connections with ourselves and connections with God. And caring for ourselves make us better able to care for and support those around us.
